

Nonequilibrium MD of Polyethylene

At equilibrium (no flow), the chains are coiled. Under a shear flow, the chains align and extend, but some are folded due to chain tumbling induced by the vorticity of the shear flow. In a vorticity free extensional flow, the chains just align with the flow field and extend.

